

BETH D. WILSON

Canadian Managing Partner, Regions and Enterprise
KPMG LLP

Beth Wilson joined KPMG in 1991, and has been providing audit services to a wide variety of clients for 17 years. She has progressively assumed more senior roles in the firm, her most recent being Canadian Managing Partner, Regions and Enterprise. She is also responsible for KPMG's global industry focus on middle market clients. Beth has provided leadership on many of the firm's internal committees including: The Diversity Council, charitable foundation and the Pension Committee. Beth previously represented the Canadian firm on KPMG's international people committee, and she was the global partner in charge of Learning and Development for KPMG International.

Beth currently leads the Regions practice which includes 24 offices across Canada, and represents approximately 25 per cent of the firm's revenue and professionals. In addition, she manages the firm's Enterprise practice, which provides audit, tax and advisory services exclusively to privately owned companies. Prior to her current position, Beth was CHRO (Chief Human Resources Office) a position in which she led the firm's strategy to be an 'Employer of Choice' in Canada.

A strong leader in both her personal and professional communities, Beth has also held positions on the CICA Board of Examiners, Durham College, University of Ontario Institute of Technology, and is presently a director on the Board of the National Ballet of Canada and a member of the CICA's Education and Qualifications Committee.

Beth lives in Toronto with her husband and two very active boys, ages seven and ten. In her spare time, Beth enjoys cottage weekends, skiing and outdoor activities with her family.
