

DEBORAH GILLIS
Vice President
Catalyst North America

Deborah Gillis is responsible for growing and supporting Catalyst members in North America. She leads Catalyst's regional offices in Toronto, Canada and Sunnyvale, California. Ms. Gillis joined Catalyst in 2006 as Vice President, Canada and assumed her expanded role in March, 2008.

Ms. Gillis regularly addresses groups of senior leaders in a variety of business, academic, and public policy venues and is frequently quoted in media outlets on issues related to women in business.

Ms. Gillis has been advising senior leaders in the public and private sectors on human capital and policy issues for 20 years. Prior to joining Catalyst, she held leadership roles in two global professional services firms and senior management roles with the Governments of Ontario and Nova Scotia. She holds graduate and undergraduate degrees from York University in Toronto.