

HANNAH SORSCHER
Chief Financial Officer
Citi Cards Canada Inc.

Hannah Sorscher is CFO for the Citi Cards Canada business of Citigroup. This is a diverse role with responsibility for overseeing the management direction and planning of Citi Cards Canada's financial services operations in Mississauga, Ontario. She is responsible for providing financial support and guidance for complex multi-product, multi-segment Citi Cards business units, developing and implementing financial policies, procedures and activities, developing and implementing strategic initiatives as well as providing coaching and mentoring to a team of high performing professionals.

Ms. Sorscher has 27 years of experience with Citigroup including roles in Asia, Europe and North America. Her career in finance has spanned diverse areas including Sarbanes Oxley, treasury, operational risk, financial reporting, budgets and forecasts, financial systems implementations, derivatives accounting, European Currency implementation and numerous other initiatives.

Ms. Sorscher joined Citibank in 1981, in Corporate Accounting and Reporting where she was promoted to Vice President in 1985. In 1988, she transferred overseas as Financial Controller in Australia and Japan, two of the largest trading centers for Citibank. Prior to joining Citibank, Ms. Sorscher was an Audit Manager with Arthur Young & Company.

Ms. Sorscher received a B.S. in Accounting, with honors, from Brooklyn College, City University of New York, and completed the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Banking and Financial Services Executive Program in 1985. She has her CPA from New York State from 1975.

Ms. Sorscher is also past President, Secretary and Membership Chair of The International Alliance for Women, and a former board member of the Financial Women's Association of New York.